“ Alicia, you were a beautiful bright light in everyone’s life! You were the first person who held me so tight and grieved with me momentarily, at a chance meeting at the Stewart’s store on Fairview Ave., the morning my son Ethan passed away! Your kind words and warmth stayed with me ever since that bonding moment that morning . I thought of you often ever since that morning! I will think of you now everyday! God bless you love! Hug my baby for me!❤️

I know you and your loved ones in heaven and Ethan are kicking it with Jesus!

Rest In Peace beautiful!❤️❤️❤️❤️

I am so sorry for your loss my heart hurts for all of you. May God bring you through this with his hand on your shoulders. May she rest in peace with the angels.

Rest in peace. When I close my eyes, I often find myself thinking of the day we met.....I did not know your name.....nor you mine.....I held your hand.....and looked into your eyes.....trying to keep you calm, trying to convey to you that you were not alone.....I stayed with you, until help arrived, and beyond, as long as I could, until the medics took over, and it became unsafe for me to stay with you.....I didn't know what to say then.....nor now.....aside from I pray that you are at peace, and that my having been there then helped.....Shalom.
