“ Maggie May weve been thru alot and you were a lifelong friend to me there want a time that we ran into each other that we wouldn't have a story to tell each other and no matter how long in between those encounters it wouldn't matter because we would pick right back up where we left off. I think im gonna miss your deep belly laugh the most but knowing your not suffering anymore will mean all the world to me say hi to everybody and tell them I miss them I love you and knowing you made my life more fuller
