“Honey you don't know how much i miss you. You were the love of my life and what a romance we had together. We went everywhere together and enjoyed being with each other every moment of every day. I never heard you ever say a bad word about anyone. You had such a gentle personality to everyone you met. God i miss you so. You were a great dad to your children and always watched out to protect them and they loved you very much. You were my teacher and i could always depended on you for all my questions. We had a great life together. You were my everything. You took care of a lot of things in the house that i never even realized and you make me smile how organized you became. I wish you could have spent more time on earth with me I always needed you to be with me, God has his plans for everyone and even though we don't like the changes in our lives we have to go on and keep in our hearts our loved ones. God bless you Bobby, love you and miss you honey.
