“ Vincent and I grew up in the same neighborhood and our parents were good friends. Somehow Vincent and I managed to keep in touch and over the past few years enjoyed meeting for winter picnics at Lake Taghkanic State Park and for lunch at the Beekman Arms in Rhinebeck. Our last shared lunch at Beekman was in August 2021, on the patio. We even had a little reunion at the New York Botanical Garden Antique Show a few years ago. I will miss this special friend and all the good times and laughs we shared.

“ I was good friends with Vince in high school. We were in a play together and he took me to the junior prom after my date broke off with me. We had a good time together. I also remember his laugh

“Vince was an exceptional friend who loved life and nature. We had been friends since 1982. He was one of the most important Antiques Dealers in NY. He had a flair for Design, Texture, and could see possibilities in all kinds of things that no one else could visualize. He loved a challenge whether it was an antique or an antique home that needed lots of love repair and time! Most of his homes and his Shop in Hudson were all photographed in some of the most important magazines. They truly were amazing with the finished product and his way of decorating with beautiful yet simple Antiques! His raspy laugh was infectious and you couldn't help laughing with him. He was loved by many many friends who will all miss him tremendously for years to come! He certainly was a tour de force and this will also be missed! RIP our dear friend.. know we will always carry you in our hearts
